

Our partners

The IFSWF works with a select group of academic and commercial research partners to bring our members cutting-edge and robust research and insights. IFSWF partners collaborate with the Forum's members to understand new investment trends in their specific context and consider the unique challenges across operations and investment they face in the global environment.

You can read our research, written alongside our partners, on our Research page.

Our partnerships are governed by our research and engagement policy.